DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: Recess (11); see line 23 of page 4. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: Reference numeral (21) illustrated in figures 3 and 4. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 1 does not end in a period.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beebe (US 2002/0016572 A1: figures 2-4 and paragraphs 24 and 25).

Beebe teaches a cylindrical piston press foot (8, 20) mounted on a coupling element with enlarged diameter (end 62) connected through a part (circular cutout 52) with reduced diameter to the end of a piston rod (18), wherein the foot comprises two identical half cylindrical halves (26). The reference states that the clamshell-split barrel (26) can be attached by friction fit or a snap-in fit.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beebe taken together with Fritz (US 2002/0063960 A1: figure 5 and paragraph 15).

Beebe discloses all claimed features except for the use of a welded connection between the two halves.

Fritz discloses an assembly comprised of two cylindrical halves (80, 90) that are connected by a snap fit or weld.

It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the apparatus of Beebe by using a welded connection of two symmetrical halves as disclosed by Fritz because the reference discloses that welded and snap-fit connections are well known mechanical equivalents. One would expect the welded connection to work at least as well as the snap-fit connection.

9. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beebe taken together with Beattie (1,082,993: figure 1).

Beebe discloses all claimed features except for the snap-fit connection comprising mating snap lock devices symmetrical about the cavity or a bore and tongue.

Beattie discloses opposed halves (2, 3) having projections (8) and bores (between projections 6 and 7). The projections (8) have small cross ribs (13) that spring into cross grooves (14) to snap fit connect the two halves.

It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the apparatus of Beebe by having two opposed snap fit connections one on each mating half as disclosed by Beattie for the purpose of ensuring equal clamping pressure by having opposing snap fit connections. It would have been further obvious to use a bore and tongue as disclosed by Beattie for the purpose of ensuring the interlock connection.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 6-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: In regards to claim 6, none of the prior art of record teach or suggest the apparatus of claim 5, wherein the bore passes all the way through the press foot and the end of the tongue is shaped to flush with the cylindrical wall of the press foot, when the two halves are joined together. In regards to claim 7, none of the prior art of record teach or suggest the apparatus of claim 5, wherein the interconnection with the tongue recesses each having a bottom are formed on each side of the press foot, which recesses runs in the longitudinal direction of the tongue, and that the bottom of the recesses except for a deeper depression at an inner end is flush with the tongue, the snap lock element mating the tongue comprising flexible arms shaped and placed so at each side of the bore that they will fill out the said recesses when two halves are moved towards each other with the respective tongues received in the respective bores to form a press foot.

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
